2019 Featured Gardens

1. Pat & Patty Barry

8785 Havenwood Heights, Dubuque, Iowa

HILLSIDE HAVEN - A cascading creek, sunken patio, 16' picnic/game table, a mile of winding trails on top of "Mia's Mountain," and a myriad of flowers and shrubs surround this relaxing haven with a beautiful view. The eight-plus acres have plenty of room for this gardener to realize her creativity.

DIRECTIONS - Take Hwy. 61 South, merging onto Hwy. 151 toward Cedar Rapids. Take the first right onto Havenwood Heights. 8785 Havenwood Heights is on your left.

2. Steve & Connie Hardie

62 Fremont Avenue, Dubuque, Iowa

THE FREMONT BOCCE CLUB - This idyllic garden includes protective earthen berms, a coniferous grove, lush ground covers, perennial shade gardens, vases of annuals, a limestone waterfall, stream and pond, a vintage playhouse, and the vine-trellised classic Bocce Court. A variety of trees and bushes provide year-round shelter and food for birds, butterflies, and bees.

WORKSHOP - Master Gardeners 101 (Who, What, & Why)
9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m.

3. Kris & Scott Kelly

984 Patricia Ann Drive, Dubuque, Iowa

PEACEFUL HIDEAWAY - The backyard doubles as a peaceful retreat and entertainment area. Pet chickens contribute to breakfast and compost materials. A pergola, dry creek, butterfly garden, dozens of flowers, and raised bed gardens provide beauty and interest at every turn.

4. Washington Neighborhood Community Garden 1836 Washington Street, Dubuque, Iowa

NEIGHBORS BUILDING RELATIONSHIPS - Nestled in the heart of the Washington Neighborhood, this community garden provides neighbors and organizations a space to build relationships around food and gardening. It was started in 2012. In 2018, this garden produced over 1,000 pounds of produce. With no water or electricity, this garden relies on sustainable practices.

WORKSHOP - Community Garden Logistics
11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

5. Dubuque Arboretum & Botanical Gardens 3800 Arboretum Drive, Dubuque, Iowa

GARDEN OF EAT'N - Designed and established in 2017, this garden demonstrates that we can incorporate perennials and produce in one garden. The garden will boast color and food for three seasons as it grows. This garden is both edible and beautiful.

WORKSHOP - Talk with Ray Kruse (Iowa State Extension Horticulturist & Master Gardener Coordinator)
11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

6. Dubuque Arboretum & Botanical Gardens 3800 Arboretum Drive, Dubuque, Iowa

BUTTERFLIES STOP HERE - There are four designated areas planted to increase the butterfly population, with an emphasis on Monarchs. Learn about the life stages of butterflies, the plants to feed and grow the population, and their "job" pollinating the crops of the Garden of Eat'n. The Arboretum was designated a Monarch Waystation in June 2017.

WORKSHOP - Growing the Extra Mile for Monarchs
12:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m.

DIRECTIONS - Follow signs at Arboretum.
